DRAFT PROGRAMME

III Transnational Conference PROGRESS 2Wards towards Healthy Ageing in Europe
Andalusian School of Public Health
Granada, EASP, 14th of November 2013

INTRODUCTION

2012 was designated the European Year for Active Ageing as Europeans today are living much longer and generally experiencing healthier lives than previous generations. The 'PROGRESS TOWARDS HEALTHY AGEING IN EUROPE' project – a partnership of 5 European countries with involvement of 20+ organisations – was established to respond collectively to the policy challenge of how we will support healthy, active and dignified ageing, improving the efficiency and effectiveness of health and social care costs of an increased ageing population, at a time of significant economic pressure across Europe.

The third conference will be in Spain will be focussed and focus on informing policy makers and, public health and occupational health professionals and will present about the findings of the Action.

The Conference's main objective of the Conference is stimulate new thinking, and share scientific knowledge and "good practices" in the health-promotion of targeting individuals 45–68 years old in order to guide policy decisions, academics and other professionals.

Who should attend:

The Conference is aimed at Professional academic and policy makers interested in Healthy Ageing in order that they to share their experiences in this topic.
